1994 – Resolute Bay Hunters and Trappers Association

Organization: Dedicated to representing hunters and trappers of Resolute Bay

Accomplishments: The Resolute Bay Hunters and Trappers Association has been intensively involved in many conservation and management issues, involving land use, fisheries, and Peary caribou populations. They continue the Inuit legacy of sound land and resource management in the region. The Resolute Bay Hunters and Trappers Association has a long history of collaborating with governments and academics to research biology and sound management of Peary caribou, while concurrently emphasizing the ecological, economic and social importance of caribou to Inuit communities.
